CALEB POWERS SCORES POINT IN BEING ALLOWED TO CALL WITNESSES AGAINST VENIRE

Judge Morris Permits Him to Produce Evidence of Improper
Conduct in Summoning
Harrison County Jurymen.

This is Regarded as Great Victory By Defense, as it is
First Time it Has Ever Been Allowed in His Case.

Georgetown, Ky., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Attorneys for Caleb Powers consider that they have won a great victory in the ruling of Judge Morris this morning that they may introduce evidence of improper summoning of jurymen from Harrison county. This is the first time a court has allowed Powers to introduce testimony on that point. When the sheriff was sent to summons the jurymen Powers prayed that he might be instructed to proceed without the assistance of the Harrison county sheriff. He wrote a letter to the sheriff, cautioning him and his deputies, and got it delivered to the sheriff in court. The court overruled his motion, but the defense had spies to watch the officers in securing the jurymen and the defense claims to be able to prove by witnesses that the officers did not act fairly in the matter.

They resumed the selection of the jury. Two of the seven men already in the box presented physicians' certificates that they cannot serve. A new venire of 100 men arrived this morning.

PEANUT DIET OFF.

Dr. Allen Lived 30 Consecutive Days
on It and Water.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Looking decidedly "off his feet," Dr. T. J. Allen, of Aurora, Ill., champion peanut eater of the world, finished his thirtieth consecutive day on an exclusive peanut and water diet today. He has undertaken to prove to the Aurora board of health by a sixty-day trial that it was wrong in attributing an Aurora citizen's illness to peanuts. Dr. Allen is now one of the exhibits at the first annual world's pure food show in the coliseum.

"I give you my word," he said today, "that I have not eaten five ounces of peanuts in as many days. Show me another kind of food that in such small proportions will support life."

PARTY WAS INSPECTING
ILLINOIS CENTRAL HERE.

H. R. Safford, chief engineer; L. A. Downs, assistant chief engineer; J. M. Taylor, general storekeeper; W. S. Hays, assistant general storekeeper; F. Draper, superintendent of bridges; C. E. Thomas, general foreman of water works; A. F. Blass, W. C. Waggoner, J. McNamara and A. F. Page, composed a party of inspection at the Illinois Central shops this morning. The out-of-town officials left for Louisville at noon.

LEONARD O. PECK WILL RE-ENLIST IN THE ARMY.

Leonard O. Peck, of Smithland, is home on a furlough of three months from the army, and has re-enlisted for another term. He will work on the river out of Paducah during his furlough. Sergeant Blake is planning a trip to Murray next week for recruits, and to Paris, Tenn., the first week in December.

TRYING TO PUT THE LID
ON IN CITY OF CHICAGO.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Printed warnings were sent today to all saloon keepers here, notifying them to close on Sundays hereafter. The Law and Order league is behind the movement. It hopes by court action to put the lid on Chicago, which sometimes is called the widest open city in the country.

OKLAHOMA LEGISLATURE.

Called by Gov. Haskell to Meet First Time December 2.

Guthrie, Okla., Nov. 18.—Governor Chas. N. Haskell, late last night, issued a call for the legislature for the new state to meet on December 2.

MRS. EARLE DENIES STORY THAT SHE HAS MADE UP.

Paris, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Ferdinand P. Earle denies the reports that she and her husband have patched up their differences and that Earle is to forget his "affinity." She says she hasn't heard from Earle since she left New York.

KY. FIELD TRIALS ASSOCIATION HAS SUCCESSFUL MEET

La Center, Ky., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—The biggest state field trial meet ever held in the United States will start here tomorrow morning with 85 entries. The rain has made the weather ideal and the fields and woods are full of birds for the second annual meet of the Kentucky Field Trials association. Secretary W. F. Bookler, Jr., of Louisville, has been here a week and has made all preparations. President M. M. Bardwell, of McHenry, arrived today. T. B. Pace, who owns Champion Prince, winner at the national meet, Grand Junction, Tenn., last January, is here. The first trial tomorrow morning will be the members' trial for trophies. There are 12 entries. Next will be the derby for dogs whelped since last January, for a purse of $300 divided into 40, 30, 20 and 10 per cent. The last will be the All Age stake of $600 for all dogs that have not won a prize at a state meet. The winners at this meet will be eligible to the national trials at Grand Junction in January. The dogs are taken out of the cages in pairs and tried on all the points in hunting birds. The judges are T. T. Ashford, Birmingham, Ala.; Richard Daniels, Williamsburg, Ky.; Dr. M. F. Rogers, New Albany, Miss.

CULLEY'S CHAMPIONS

Since the Culley team has so decisively beaten the South Kentucky College team, a long distance message has been received from Mayfield stating that the team of that town would not be here to play Thanksgiving as they had agreed. With the victory over S. K. C. Culley's has the undisputed championship of west Kentucky, unless in some game to be played between now and the end of the season, they may be defeated. South Kentucky College heretofore has claimed the championship of west Kentucky, but Culley's made their Waterloo. A game for Thanksgiving will be arranged, if possible, by the Culleys.

LOST SWEETHEART, HE THOUGHT LIFE NOT WORTH WHILE

Murray, Ky., Nov. 18. (Special.)—The body of Strother Harding, who committed suicide in St. Louis Saturday by taking carbolic acid, was brought here yesterday and buried in the city cemetery. Young Harding was a son of Henry Harding, of Martin, Tenn., who formerly lived here, and was one of the most prominent citizens in Calloway county. Several years ago Harding went to Fort Worth, Texas, and accepted employment in a bank, of which his uncle Noah Harding, was president. He made rapid progress and a few years ago was given a fine position in a St. Louis bank. Harding left no note, explaining the cause of his suicide, but a letter found on his person from the mother of a young woman in Fort Worth, with whom the boy was in love and who had jilted him, explains the cause. It is said that he had also lost his position with the St. Louis bank.

DRAINAGE STOPPED

Boulevarding Jefferson street has resulted in the upsetting of several natural water courses with consequent complaints to the city health department. Sanitary Inspector J. L. Galtier is investigating a complaint that J. M. Dunlap, of 2415 Jefferson street, has stopped up a sewer throwing water on other property across the street. The creek before the street was constructed ran through the woods at right angles with the street. When the pavements were laid this cut into the creek and City Engineer Washington laid a pipe under the street to carry the water over. One end of this pipe has been stopped thus preventing the natural drain. The neighbors affected sometimes cannot reach their coal houses because of the backed up water. City Engineer Washington thinks the trouble will be remedied when the lots out there are filled in.

CHRIST IS RISEN THEME OF SERMON BY REV. M. E. DODD

Two Large Congregations Hear Baptist Preacher at First Baptist Church Yesterday, Arguing Foundation of the Christian Faith.

MAY BE CALLED TO CHURCH

Two large congregations attended the First Baptist church yesterday morning and evening to hear the Rev. Monroe E. Dodd, of Fulton, who preached two magnificent sermons. Dr. Dodd is a young man of strong personality and a fine pulpit orator. Many members of the congregation are in favor of extending a call to him.

Taking the theme, "Christ's Resurrection," and his text from Matthew XXVIII, 6; "He is not here; He is risen, as he said"; Dr. Dodd said in part:

"The entire Christian system hangs upon whether or not Christ arose from the dead. If He did not rise Christianity is a farce, the whole thing a myth and Christ himself an impostor. If He did rise He was and is the Son of God and the world Redeemer. If He did not rise our preaching and faith are vain, we are yet in our sins and those who have fallen asleep in Him are perished. If He did rise we are saved and safe and the future looms up with a glorious hope."

"One of these things must have happened to that body. It must have remained in the tomb; it must have been stolen or it must have arisen from the dead. If it were the first, why did not the Jews produce the dead body and refute the apostles' preaching of the resurrection? If it were stolen by the apostles, what accounting is there for the strange phenomenon that they should give their own lives for what they knew to be false? No other answer than that He arose from the dead will harmonize with all the circumstances. The only answer is that in the stillness of that marvelous night, when no sound could be heard save the muffled tread of the Roman guard as

WESTON AHEAD OF TIME

Cleveland, Nov. 18.—Edward Payson Weston, the pedestrian, reached Cleveland at 7:30 this morning, having walked from Palmersville at midnight. Weston expects to walk 78 miles today and reach Chicago next Monday. He is 24 hours ahead of his record made 40 years ago.

LONG PASTORATE

One other pastor in Paducah is crowding the record of Father Jansen in length of service in the community. The Rev. W. E. Cave, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, has been here 24 years, the anniversary of his coming occurring last week. When he came to Paducah the church was on South Third street. During his labors here a new church at Seventh and Jefferson streets has been built, and two missions established.

KILLING IN COURT

London, Ky., Nov. 18. (Special.)—Commissioner Robert Boyd, Jr., this morning shot and killed James Sparks, one of the most prominent lawyers in eastern Kentucky. The shooting occurred in the court house, while Boyd was engaged in settling up a case, in which Sparks was one of the attorneys. Bad blood had existed between the men for some time over a suit to break a will of Boyd's uncle. Only a petty quarrel immediately preceded the shooting.

CORONER EAKER HURT

Coroner Frank Eaker had his right leg broken just below the hip in a runaway on South Sixth street between Jones and Tennessee streets shortly after noon. He was riding in his undertaker's wagon when the horse became frightened and hurled the wagon against a telephone pole, throwing Mr. Eaker out and running over his leg. Dr. J. D. Robertson reached Mr. Eaker shortly after the accident and he was removed to his home, 518 Tennessee street, where the fracture was set. It will be several weeks before Coroner Eaker can leave his bed and a month or two before he can actively resume his duties.

PADUCAH DISTRICT ASSIGNMENTS

Humboldt, Tenn., Nov. 18. (Special.)—Two changes were made in the assignment of the Memphis conference this morning. The Rev. G. W. Banks returns to the Trimble Street church and the Rev. J. W. Naylor to the Paducah circuit. Dr. W. T. Bolling, of Broadway, trades with the Rev. G. T. Sullivan, of Paris, Tenn. The Rev. Peter Fields, of the Third Street church, goes to McKenzie, Tenn., and H. B. Terry comes to Third street. The Rev. T. J. Owen returns to Reidland circuit. The Rev. W. W. Adams goes to Mayfield to succeed the Rev. C. A. Watterfield, who goes to Madison Heights church, Memphis. The Rev. T. P. Ramsey, of the Mayfield circuit, goes to the Mississippi avenue church, Memphis. T. W. Wilson, formerly presiding elder of the Dyersburg district, goes to Clinton. The Rev. J. W. Irion goes to the Preston Street church, Memphis. The Rev. R. E. Brassfield returns to Woodville circuit. Dr. Sullivan has just completed a four year term at Paris, Tenn. He is one of the strong men of the conference of marked executive ability and a fine pastor. He was for four years presiding elder of the Memphis district and has been in Jackson, Tenn., also. It is his first charge in Paducah but he is well known here and liked. The Rev. H. B. Terry, who comes to the Third Street Methodist church, is well known in Paducah, having been on the Paducah circuit at one time. He transferred to a western but afterwards returned to the Memphis conference. He married Miss Ada Bonds, of Paducah, daughter of Mr. Bonds, 1001 Jackson street.

The Memphis conference will go to Covington, Tenn., next year. Paducah invited the conference, but Covington was the successful contestant. Miss Lucile Blackard, of Paducah, the talented daughter of Presiding Elder J. W. Blackard, of the Paducah district, sang the solo immediately preceding Bishop Hendrix's sermon.

Artistic Touch Had Young Musician; Borrowed Cornet Left When He Did

Music hath charms that Prof. William Deal had not discovered in his career until yesterday when the experience cost him $65, unless a fine cornet which was stolen from him, is recovered. The love of a ragged urchin for the thing that soothes the savage beast worked on Professor Deal's sympathies to that extent, and while charity usually is supposed to cover a multitude of sins, it seems that in this case the covering process was not quite complete.

While the guests of the Palmer House were eating luncheon to the strains of Professor Deal's orchestra, a ragged urchin, 15 years old, appeared and seemed to be enraptured with the music. He hung around the hotel entrance until Professor Deal came out, and manfully asked him for a trial, saying he was good on alto. Professor Deal has a frater feeling for musicians in distress and agreed to give the boy a trial.

So far goodness was rewarded, for the boy proved to be one of the most competent players Professor Deal ever heard, and as Professor Deal admits, was superior to any musician in his orchestra. With his heart light from having saved to the world a prodigy who might afterward turn out to be another Mendelssohn, Professor Deal carried the boy, who gave his name as John Holston, Philadelphia, to the New Richmond House, where Col. Bud Dale, the genial host, promptly agreed to help the boy along by giving him work around the office. He assigned the prodigy to a room, and admonished him not to smoke cigarettes there, in which the manly little fellow acquiesced.

And now to this roseate picture comes a somber hue. This morning the prodigy was missing, and so is the $65 cornet. And the instrument he carried with him was a borrowed one. Professor Deal had borrowed the instrument from a member of his orchestra to give the boy a trial. Prosate it may be after such an expenditure of sentiment and emotion to call in the police, but the situation admits of no other solution. The only thing left of the original picture is the undeniable fact that the boy is a fine musician.

Many strange and rough looking

SWITCHMEN'S DEMAND

Buffalo, Nov. 18.—Negotiations between eastern railroads and the Switchmen's union of North America are practically ended. Unless one side recedes before night serious developments are expected. All railroads east of Chicago are concerned.

THE WEATHER.

CLOUDY

Cloudy, probably threatening tonight. Tuesday partly cloudy. The highest temperature yesterday, 50; lowest, 38.

FEDERAL COURT CONVENES WITH JUDGE WALTER EVANS ON THE BENCH THIS MORNING

A Virginian

SENATOR JOHN W. DANIELS.

Senator John W. Daniels is mentioned as a possible candidate for president on the Democratic ticket, should a southern man be selected. He is one of the soundest, most conservative men among the Democratic senators, and upholds the dignity and traditions of his native state.

I. C. PAYS $22,788

The Illinois Central railroad company paid Contractor Bridges & Son $22,788 Saturday, the pro rata due the contractors for sewer district No. 2. The settlement was made without any parleying whatever.

K. C. STAR DAMAGED

Kansas City, Nov. 18.—An unidentified woman, probably a janitress, was found unconscious in a room of the Missouri building early today during a fire. She may die. The loss is $25,000. Property valued at $30,000 is in the basement. The Star was damaged by water, mostly the paper.

Two Firemen Killed.

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 18.—Two firemen were killed by falling walls in a fire, which destroyed the five-story plant of the J. I. Case Threshing Machine company Sunday night. The loss is $200,000.

LOUISVILLE MAN LOST IN CAVERNS UNDER HORSE CAVE

Horse Cave, Ky., Nov. 18. (Special.)—William Worth, said to be a lecturer of Louisville, is believed to have been lost in the depths of the cavern under the town of Horse Cave since last Monday when he went in to explore the cave. Nothing has been heard of him since and parties have been searching for him.

RIOT IN LOUISVILLE

Louisville, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—In spite of the strike street cars are running on fair schedule on nearly all lines this morning. Most of them are manned by strike breakers. Some strikers deserted the union. There was no violence of importance today. Yesterday two arrests were made. A union parade broke up in a riot at Fourth and Market streets. Police arrested five men and the mob tried to take them away. A big detail of police scattered the crowd. Several were hurt by bricks. The police drew pistols, but did not have to use them. Authorities will not allow any more parades.

Cars will begin running tonight on two lines.

and Litigants Present at the Opening Session and Business

No Time Lost in Getting Down to Work—Cases Assigned
and Court Starts to Clearing
Up the Docket.

Solemnity and dispatch marked the opening day of the November term of the United States district court, which began its sessions this morning in the court room at the custom house with Hon. Walter Evans presiding.

In the criminal docket the case against Phil J. Abbott for embezzling funds of the American German National bank was continued, the defendant not being before the court. The indictment against John Munphy, charged with selling whisky without paying the special tax, was dismissed, the death of the defendant being suggested.

H. C. McChord, formerly postmaster at Hampton, Livingston county, was fined $50. He was charged with misappropriating funds of the office, but the violation was only a technicality and caused by a deputy in the office cashing a check with government funds. The postal inspector happened in the office while the check was in the drawer being carried as cash, and the indictment ensued.

Bob Waterfield, colored, was tried on a charge of selling whisky without a license, and was acquitted.

A verdict of not guilty was returned in the case of Ed Brown charged with selling "Dr. Fizz," the beverage being proven perfectly harmless and non-intoxicating.

Gus Singleton Discharged.
The charge against Gus Singleton for contempt of court committed during the sale of the Rehkopf property, was dismissed on motion of the attorneys for the parties bringing the charge.

Telephone Case.
The trial of the suit of the East Tennessee Telephone company against the city of Paducah to prevent the telephone company being ousted from the city or being in any way prevented from pursuing its business, was continued until the December rule day to allow time for the completion of the proceedings.

The Meadows Case.
The $100,000 damage suit filed against W. W. Meadows, a prominent Fulton merchant, by Rev. F. M. Hawley, a minister of the Presbyterian church and former pastor of the church at Fulton, will probably be tried at this term of court as all the parties to the suit and the witnesses are said to be here. The evidence in the case is expected to be of a sensational nature as grave charges are made against Meadows by the minister, who alleges that Meadows and a party of friends took him from the Fulton station and beat him after handcuffing him and rendering him helpless.

The plaintiff's attorneys are Judge Robbins, of Mayfield, formerly circuit judge, and the law firm of Shelbourne & Smith, of Clinton. For the defense Congressman Oille M. James, Wheeler, Hughes & Berry, of Paducah, and Ed Thomas and H. T. Smith, of Fulton. Many prominent people are witnesses, including society ladies of Fulton.

A Murray Case.
The case against J. M. Radford, of Murray, charged with opening a letter that was received at the Murray postoffice for Miss Belva Broach, was continued on motion of the government. Radford is a prominent banker and was formerly sheriff of the county. The facts in the case involve a village sensation that is believed to have been wholly caused by wasps. A letter was sent Miss Broach, who is a stenographer, by a former employer, which was wholly in regard to a business transaction, she being trustee in a bankruptcy case. It is alleged that the letter, which was believed to contain other information, was taken from the postoffice and opened and the indictment followed.

It is understood that the reason

THANKSGIVING

PROCLAMATION ISSUED BY GOVERNOR BECKHAM.

Document is Brief, But Specifies What People of Kentucky Should Be Glad Of.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 18.—The following proclamation has been issued by Governor Beckham:

"In accordance with custom and the proclamation of the president of the United States, I hereby appoint Thursday, November 28, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer throughout the commonwealth. It is expected on that day that all of our people shall refrain from their usual business, employments and give thanks to All-wise Ruler, who has so generously blessed us as a nation, and who has so bountifully provided for us.

"In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the commonwealth to be hereunto affixed.

"Done at Frankfort this 15th day of November, 1907.

Voice Energy.

Dr. Marage recently presented before the Academy of Medicine at Paris the results of an investigation of the amount of work performed by orators and singers. It appears from his experiments that a bass voice, in order to produce the same impression upon the ears of hearers in a hall, requires the performance of from seventeen to eighteen times more work than is required for a barytone or tenor voice. The bass voice is always at a disadvantage with regard to the amount of work it demands. Thus, Dr. Marage finds that whereas men are always more fatigued than women and children by an equal effort of the voice, men with bass voices suffer the most fatigue.

Heart Troubles

The heart may be weak just the same as the eyes, stomach or other organs. It often happens that a person is born with a weak heart. Then again disease, fevers, over-exertion, anxiety, nervousness, rheumatism, etc. weaken the heart. The result is shortness of breath, palpitation, pain in the heart, or in some of the nerves of the chest or abdomen. The heart should be strengthened with a tonic, and for this nothing equals Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

"I had LaGrippe last fall as I thought in a mild form. I was weak, tired feeling, and short of breath; could hardly go about, and a good deal of the time sort of an asthmatic breathing and extremely nervous. I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine and now I feel so much better in every way. I am so thankful that I began taking this medicine, and shall not hesitate to tell others how much good it has done me."

On Forest Reserve.

"Dr. Will is an exceptionally able man, and has a national reputation. He has done a great work for the forests of the country and is arousing interest in this most important subject."—Raleigh (N. C.) Evening Times, Sept. 16, 1907.

"The lecture to be given by Secretary Thomas E. Will, of the American Forestry association, in this city, on the Appalachian Forest Reserve, should be of vital interest to every citizen. He is thoroughly familiar with his subject and will illustrate it with a large collection of lantern slides. He is a lecturer of many years' standing, and in his lecture will interest all who are concerned in good citizenship. His wide experience in educational and lecture work insures a clear and forceful presentation of a subject that is of vital interest to everyone."—Spartanburg (S. C.) Daily Herald, Sept. 19, 1907.

"There is no topic of so widespread importance before the nation at present, nor has there been in years, as the necessity of preserving the Appalachian forests for the sake of the streams that have their sources among their peaks. Professor Gamewell has just returned from the Appalachian hillsides, and he says the forests are being denuded mercilessly, and unless the government takes steps to stop the vandal hand it will be but a matter of a short time when the famous water-powers that originate there will be lost to the industrial south forever."—Spartanburg (S. C.) Daily Herald, Sept. 19, 1907.

Dr. Will will lecture here November 29.

THEATRICAL NOTES

Repertoire This Week.

The popular Depew-Burdette stock company in repertoire is the attraction at the Kentucky theater this week. For several seasons this organization has visited Paducah, sometimes playing a return date, and it has established a clientele the equal in numbers of any theatrical attraction. The dramas presented are sterling in quality and the company well balanced, while Mr. Depew himself, has a reputation for comedy work and versatility that makes him a great favorite in this city. Several strong specialties are interspersed. Tonight ladies will be admitted free when accompanying a person holding a full admission ticket.

"Gadzooks, methinks this is going to be a long winter," murmured a tall, cadaverous looking man in a soiled silk hat and a frock coat as he stood on Chicago's "Rialto" yesterday. And from different parts of Chicago at least 1,000 actors, actresses, chorus girls and others echoed his sentiments.

Eleven theatrical companies have "closed for the season" in the Chicago district within the last ten days and the army of applicants for places around the theatrical agencies is larger than it has been at this time of the year for many seasons.

Idle Players Hurry to City.

Reports from the smaller circuits have not been reassuring. Within the last week the following companies have closed and the members have hurried toward Chicago.

People.
"Day and Day" ..... 22
"Toyland" (No. 2 company) ..... 40
"Miss Pocahontas" company ..... 45
"The Umpire" ..... 20
"The Thoroughbred Tramp" ..... 25
"The Great Eastern World" ..... 15
"The Boy Scout" ..... 11
"The Trust Busters" ..... 10

"The Bell Boy" ..... 20
"Hap" Ward's company ..... 35

Season's Play Losses $162,000.

New York, Nov. 18.—All the theatrical managers having admitted the effect of the money pinch on their business in a general way, those who find the figures have come forward with an estimate in dollars of the loss by the unsuccessful plays. It is said that by the failure of "The Christian Pilgrim" alone the management loses something in the neighborhood of $50,000. An indication as good as any of the disastrous nature of the season can be gained by the following estimated losses:
"The Movers" ..... $15,000
"The Man in the Case" ..... 10,000
"The Struggle Everlasting" ..... 25,000
"The Evangelist" ..... 12,000
"The Step Sister" ..... 10,000
"The Silver Girl" ..... 10,000
"Sappho and Phao" ..... 20,000
"Artie" ..... 10,000
"The Christian Pilgrim" ..... 50,000
Total ..... $162,000
And this list takes no account of comic opera failures or those which died before they got within the glare of Broadway.

Chicago Letter.

Chicago as the typical American city, is the best place to try a new show. If it is a Chicago success it is usually successful and good for a long run throughout the country.

"Mrs. Wiggs, of the Cabbage Patch," grew from a Chicago success to a world success. Last week it was played in Pittsburgh, Pa., and London, England, and at the latter place has been running for nearly a year. It is freely predicted that the run will cover two years.

"The Isle of Bong Bong" and "The Isle of Spice" are being played nightly throughout the country, the last named by three different companies, although it is more than four years since it was first produced.

"The Mayor of Tokio," "The Wizard of Oz" and "The Yankee Regent" are still money makers despite their age, while the newer and more pretentious Chicago success, "The Time, the Place and the Girl," is one of the big drawing powers of the season.

Because Al G. Fields is compelled to live in his private car the greater part of a long theatrical season, he does not give up all of the pleasures of a permanent home. His family spends considerable time with him and Mr. Fields, who is very fond of outdoor sports, carries with him his favorite saddle horse and in season his noted bird dogs and frequently slips away for a day's shooting.

Henry W. Savage is now arranging for a limited visit to Old Mexico of his "Madam Butterfly" company to give the Pucelini opera in English next January after the New Orleans engagement. Nowhere on the American continent is the Italian composer more popular than in Mexico, where his music was first sung on this side of the ocean by the little Italian opera company that had "La Boheme" in its repertoire in 1897. The coming proposed Mexican visit of "Madam Butterfly" is in response to a special request from members of the American club in Chihuahua, where 5,000 citizens of the United States are now living.

It being absolutely impossible for Miss Maud Adams to visit even one-half of the important cities of the country in "Peter Pan," Charles Frohman is organizing another "Peter Pan" company which will be headed by Miss Vivian Martin. This company will present the beautiful Barle idyl in the larger cities which it will not be possible for Miss Adams to reach.

The magnificent dramatic success, "The Great Divide," in which Margaret Anglin and Henry Miller are appearing at Daly's theater, New York, leaves there the 30th, after nearly a season and a half on Broadway. The play would easily have played out the present season there, if contracts calling for the original production in Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago could have been longer postponed. Mr. Miller has announced that he will form another and possibly two companies to present the Moody play in the southern and eastern cities.

The reception of "The Merry Widow," in New York was such as to practically guarantee its run there until hot weather, and Henry Savage has organized a second company to play the Viennese Opera at the Colonial theater, Chicago, opening December 1. Before coming to Chicago the number two company, which is said to be the equal of the New York organization, will play for one week in New York and Gotham will enjoy the unusual experience of having two companies under one management offering the same entertainment in two playhouses.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS.

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles—A Paducah Citizen Shows How to Cure Them.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary troubles sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they may lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Kidney Pills. It cures all the troubles which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Paducah people testify to permanent cures.

L. L. Davies, 219 Broadway, Paducah, Ky., says: "I have been greatly benefited by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at DuBois, Son & Co.'s drug store. I had suffered with backache for some time, but a short use of this remedy proved very satisfactory in relieving the trouble. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills very highly to those afflicted in this way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Mr. Rockefeller Has $100,000,000 in United States Government Bonds

New York, Nov. 18.—There is current in Wall street the amazing report that John D. Rockefeller has stowed away in the vaults of the Standard Trust company at 25 Broad street, $100,000,000 worth of government bonds. If this be true—and those who recite the tale assert that there can be no question about the authenticity of its source—John D. Rockefeller is creditor to the United States government to the extent of little less than one-ninth of the interest bearing debt of the people. The aggregate of government interest bearing debts is $925,158,650.

If it is true that Rockefeller is hoarding $100,000,000 worth of government bonds, the complaint of bankers, that they are unable to raise currency, would seem to have considerable weight.

Wealth in Great Steel Cavern.
The vaults of the Standard Trust company are the largest in New York. It is said that Rockefeller has one vault, or room of steel caverns as large as the average business man's office, and that in this room he keeps his wealth locked up.

Rockefeller is said to have visited Wall street three times the last month, and on each occasion is said to have gone to his storing room and taken out securities upon which money has been raised. On one of these visits, it is reported, he showed two visitors to the vaults his hoard of bonds.

These men in the first flush of their astonishment are said to have told others what they had seen. In that way the story gained circulation.

Wall Street Doubts Tale.

Concerning the statement that Rockefeller owns $100,000,000 worth of government bonds Wall street shows a natural credulous spirit. Here is the last statement of the United States treasury, showing interest bearing debt:

Consols of 1930, 2 per cent .....	$595,942,350
Loans of 1908-1918, 3 per cent .....	63,945,460
Funded loan of 1907, 4 per cent .....	116,755,550
Refunding certificates 1 per cent .....	25,390
Loans of 1925, 4 per cent .....	118,489,900
Panama canal loans .....	30,000,000

Total debt .....

$925,158,650
---------------

There are United States bonds in deposit in the United States treasury to secure circulation to the value of $524,036,980. Bonds on hand and with the treasurer to secure public deposits amount to $109,850,438. This takes a total of $633,887,418 out of the hands of the public according to the statement issued on Dec. 1, 1906.

Subtracting this from the approximate total interest bearing debt of $925,000,000 in government bonds outstanding. Of these bonds the Wall street report wants those who hear it to believe that John D. Rockefeller owns $100,000,000 worth.

UNJUST TAX PLAN DECISION OF TAX COMMISSIONERS

In discussing tax questions in Kentucky and elsewhere, frequent reference is made to the "general property tax." This is the kind of system Kentucky has in force. It is the system that is in force in most of the states.

Briefly, the general property tax is a uniform ad valorem tax levied upon all classes of property alike, regardless of the nature, of the earning capacity or of the tangible or intangible character of the property. The taxing authority of a state, for instance, will levy a tax of 50 cents. This tax is to fall upon every kind of property alike. Everything of value, whether real estate, money in bank, notes, bonds, mortgages, shares of stock, live stock, wagons, carriages, jewelry, furniture, any sort of personal property, or franchises of corporations is called property and must pay this tax. This is the general property tax. The general property tax is, therefore, the levying of a uniform ad valorem tax on all property for all purposes.

A distinct from this system is the system of classifying property, raising state revenues from one kind of property, county revenues from another kind of property and city revenues from still another kind, and also the raising of revenues by special taxes of various kinds. The argument in the tax world today is between these two systems of raising the public revenue.

The Kentucky system is the general property tax. Our constitution binds us to the levy of a uniform ad valorem tax on all property of every kind for all purposes. If a piece of property located in the city is taxed for one purpose, it must be taxed for all. If it is a property-earning 6 per cent return to its owner, it must pay the same tax as property earning 20 per cent. If it is a kind that can be removed or hidden it is taxed the same as real estate—if it can be found. No distinction is made on any account whatever; all property must pay the same rate.

This sounds like a very fair system, and in theory, it is fairness itself. But its operation, in the opinion of those who have studied the question, not in Kentucky only but in every state in the Union, has not borne out the promise made for it. The system has been abandoned in Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Delaware, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Oregon, and partially in a number of other states. The rapid tendency of the states is to get away from it, as impossible and impracticable. Nearly every state that has a tax commission has declared itself very frankly on this question. A large number of states have within the last few years appointed tax commissions to carefully study the methods of raising public revenues and, almost invariably, the reports of these commissions have denounced the general property tax system, the system that we have in Kentucky, as being absurd, impossible of enforcement and unjust in its operation.

Denounced by Supreme Court.

The supreme court of the United States lends the way in denouncing the system. In its opinion in the case of the Pacific Express Co. vs. Seibert, the court said:

"This court has repeatedly laid down the doctrine that diversity of taxation, both with respect to the amount imposed and the various species of property selected either for bearing its burdens or being exempt from them, is not inconsistent with a perfect uniformity and equality of taxation in the proper sense of those terms; and that a system which imposes the same tax upon every species of property, irrespective of its nature or condition or class, will be destructive of the principle of uniformity and equality in taxation and of a just adaptation of property to its burdens."

An Illinois tax commission has declared that the uniform ad valorem general property tax, the system that we have also in Kentucky, "is debauching to the conscience and subversive to the public morals—a school for perjury, promoted by law."

An Ohio tax commission has denounced it as "imposing unjust burdens on the man who is scrupulously honest," and Ohio is engaged in an effort to get rid of it.

A New Hampshire tax commission deprecates its "corrupting and demoralizing influence."

A New York tax commission says: "It puts a premium on perjury and a penalty on integrity."

In an address to the general assembly of Maryland, Richard T. Ely, one of the greatest of our publicists, said: "The one uniform tax on all property as an exclusive source of revenue never has worked well in any modern community or state in the entire civilized world, though it has been tried thousands of times, and although all the mental resources of able men have been employed to make it work well."

Prof. E. A. Angell, late tax commissioner of Ohio, said in an article in the Independent: "The indirect results of the operation of the law have been to drive away large masses of capital from the state. It is estimated that at least $200,000,000 has been lost to Cleveland alone, and as much more to Cincinnati."

Photographic Tricks.

A recent issue of the "Welt Spiegel" has a striking picture of a group of five men in mountain-climbing costume. They are all standing on narrow ledges which project from an almost perpendicular mountain-side. Beneath the picture one may read: "Does it not make one dizzy to look at this group?" Still it was not taken in the clear mountain air, but in a photographer's studio, a fact which no one save an expert could discover. The men will undoubtedly show the picture to demonstrate their ability as mountain climbers and their great "courage."

Daily Thought.

Every choice in life is an impact
that determines the shape of character.

That $100,000,000 worth of government bonds will make a nice nest
egg for John D. Rockefeller.

Chairman Tom Taggart has called the national Democratic committee to meet at French Lick Springs this month. Would advise usual contributions prior to the adjournment of that meeting.

There was a feeling appeal made to the school teachers of the state to support the present administration,
just before the election; and now they have waited two weeks for their first quarter's pay, after a long vacation. The condition imposes an actual hardship on some poor pedagogues, and surely if any laborer is worthy of his hire, it is the underpaid country school teacher. The whole community must resent this almost criminal lack of consideration for those, who are doing most to raise the standard of citizenship.

PADUCAH'S CHANCE.

Conditions now present themselves,
which make it all the more important that Paducah should extend her boundaries westward. This city should take all necessary steps to make as good showing as possible in the census of 1910. That census will fix the city's status for five years, at least, and to an extent for ten. The little crimp taken in industrial development will retard progress for a season. Consequently, Paducah must not take any chances on showing a loss or a practical stand still for the decade fast coming to a close. Fine homes, and numerous cottages have sprung up, like mushrooms in a wet
woods, west of Paducah; and there are, perhaps, 2,000 people in the contiguous territory extending to the line of Wallace park and the western hills. If the corporation line were drawn straight along there, it would take in what properly belongs to Paducah and make the western corporation line equal to the natural boundary. Those people enjoy all the advantages of the city. They do business here, and some of them, indeed,
like to vote in the city. Why should they by building a few feet or rods
to the westward escape their just
share of the cost of the conveniences, which they enjoy. The property will add immensely to the assessed values
of the city and their pro rata will go
to swell the taxes, while the families will add to Paducah's showing in the census. It requires time to extend the corporation line of a city.
It is probable that there will be some objection to it, though why, one can not understand. If Paducah is to make the showing her growth westward deserves, steps must be taken at once, as there are two years only
in which to complete the work.

Another of those nasty melodramas
of real life is being enacted in the Washington courts, and there is a deal of misdirected sentiment being wasted on it. The story of the case

In brief is, that Mrs. A. M. Bradley and Senator Brown, of Utah, formed
a shameful alliance during the lifetime of Mrs. Brown. They lived together afterward and then Senator Brown determined to marry another woman. They had two children, and when Mrs. Bradley learned that she was to be discarded, she shot Senator Brown with the weapon he had given her to protect herself against the threatened attack of Mrs. Brown. Of course, Senator Brown merited death and no one feels sorry for him. If Mrs. Bradley wanted him to marry
her for the sake of her sons' name,
she was justified in going to almost any length, although we can't figure out just how those sons are benefited
by the death of Brown and the ex-posure of their shame. Probably the woman was driven insane, and under the circumstances, no human being could have the heart to have her hung. If Mrs. Brown were alive, undoubtedly she would say Mrs.
Bradley is receiving a deserved punishment. For our part, we object to calling the sentiment of Mrs. Bradley toward Brown "Love." It is most too holy a name to be used in connection with a couple of beasts.

We give men a second chance.
Why can't a woman have a second chance? Is the modern cry. Well, it has its compensations. If a woman hasn't a second chance to reform, the knowledge of the fact keeps woman's standard high above that of man's.
Perhaps, if we didn't give man such an easy chance the second and third
and fourth times, he might hesitate
about going astray in the first place.

A Cairo preacher seems to be terribly worried about what they're going to light fires in hell with; but we hazard the guess there will be some fellow on hand with a cigarette in case of emergency.

We still stand by our position: If the women desire the suffrage and demand it are entitled to it and will get it. But it will improve neither the women nor the men nor the government. Women are just as able to vote as men, and just as much interested in good government—some of them, and some in bad government—as the men; and no man has a right to deny them the ballot, if they demand it.

marriage makes the money go.

Talkative women are naturally
open-faced.

HARNESS BROKE AND
WOMAN BADLY HURT.

When the harness broke on a horse
which Mrs. R. B. Penn was driving down a hill near Brown's station last evening about 6 o'clock, the horse became frightened and ran away, damaging the buggy and throwing the occupants, Mrs. Penn and her four-year-old daughter, out. Mrs. Penn had tossed her baby to a bank at the roadside when she realized her predicament. The baby was laughing when it was picked up, and while the little girl was stunned, she is all right today. Mrs. Penn sustained a fracture of the collar bone and shoulder blade on the left side and is suffering excruciating pain today.
Dr. J. D. Robertson attended their injuries.

CHAPTER XIII.

A Day of Grace.

Resolve, shame, despair, fought with each other in the tumult in my mind
as I passed between the bronze lions and took my way down the street.

I was called out of my distractions
with a sudden start as though a bucket
of cold water had been thrown over
me. I had proceeded not twenty feet
when I saw two dark forms across the street. They had, it struck me, been waiting for my appearance, for one ran to join the other and both hastened toward the corner as though to be ready to meet me.

I could not retreat to the house of the Wolf that loomed forbiddingly behind me. There was nothing to do but to go forward and trust to my good fortune, and I shifted my revolver to the side-pocket of my overcoat as I stepped briskly to the corner. Then I stopped under the lamp-post to reconsider.

The two men who had roused my apprehensions did not offer to cross
the street, but slackened their pace
and strolled slowly along on the other side. I noted that it seemed a long way between street-lamps thereabouts.
I could see none between the one under which I was standing and the brow of the hill below. Then it occurred to me that this circumstance might not be due to the caprice of the street department of the city government, but to the thoughtfulness of the gentlemen who were paying such close attention to my affairs. I decided that there were better ways to get down town than were offered by Pine street.

To the south the cross-street
stretched to Market with an unbroken
array of lights, and as my unwary
watchers had disappeared in the darkness, I hastened down the incline with no little regard for dignity that I found myself running for a Sutter street car
—and caught it, too. As I swung on the platform I looked back; but I saw no sign of skulking figures behind me. I was engaged in putting the room to rights, the door swung back,

and I jumped to my feet to face a
man who stood on the threshold.
"Hello!" he cried. "House-cleaning
again?"

"It was Dicky Nahl, and he paused
with a smile on his face.

"Ah, Dicky!" I said with an effort to keep out of my face and voice the suspensions I had gained from the incidents of the visit to the Borton
place. "Entirely unpremeditated, I as-
sure you."

"Well, you're making a thorough
job of it," he said with a laugh.

"Fact is," said I ruefully, "I've been
entertaining angels—of the black kind —unawares. I was from home last night, and I find that somebody has made himself free with my property
while I was away."

"Whew!" whistled Dicky. "Guess
they were after you?"

I gave Dicky a sidelong glance in a vain effort to catch more of his meaning than was conveyed by his words.

"Shouldn't be surprised," I replied
dryly, picking up an armful of books.
"I'd expect them to be looking for me
in the book-shelf or inside the mattress-cover, or under the carpet."

Dicky laughed joyously.

"Well, they did rather turn things
upside down," he chuckled. "Did they get anything?" And he fell to helping me zealously.

"Not that I can find out," I replied.
"Nothing of value, anyhow."

"Not any paper, or anything of that sort?" asked Dicky anxiously.

"Dicky, my boy," said I, "there are two kinds of fools. The other is the man who writes his business on a sheet of paper and forgets to burn it."

Dicky grinned merrily.

"Gad, you're getting a turn for epigram! You'll be writing for the Argonaunt first we know."

"Well, you'll allow me a shade of common sense, won't you?"
"I don't know," said Dicky, considering the proposition doubtfully. "It might have been awkward if you had left anything lying about. But if you had real good sense you'd have had the guards here. What are you paying them for, anyhow?"

I saw difficulties in the way of explaining to Dicky on duty.

"Oh, by the way," said Dicky suddenly, before a suitable reply had come to me; "how about the scads—spendulicks—you know? Yesterday was pay-day, but you didn't show up."
I don't know whether my jaw dropped or not. My spirits certainly did.

fore the car swept past the corner and
blotted the street from sight.

The incident gave me a distaste for
the idea of going back to Henry Wil-
ton's room at this time of the night.
So at Montgomery street I stopped
into the Lick house, where I felt reassured that I might get at least one night's sleep, from the haunting fear of the assassin.

But, once more safe, the charms of Luehla Knapp again claimed the major part of my thoughts, and when I went to sleep it was with her scornful words
ringing in my ears. I slept soundly until the morning sun peeped into the room with the cheerful announcement
that a new day was born.

In the fresh morning air and the bright morning light, I felt that I might have been unduly suspicious
and had fled from harmless citizens;
and I was ashamed that I had lacked courage to return to Henry's room as I made my way thither for a change of clothes. I thought better of my decision, however, as I stepped within the gloomy walls of the house of mystery and my footfalls echoed through the chilling silence of the halls. And I lost all regret over my night's lack of courage when I reached my door.
It was swung an inch ajar, and as I approached I thought I saw it move.

"I'm certain I locked it," was my inward comment.

I stopped short and hunted my revolver from my overcoat pocket. I was nervous for a moment, and angry
at the inattention that might have cost me my life.

"Who's there?" I demanded.
No reply.

I gave a knock on the door at long reach.

There was no sound and I gave it a push that sent it open while I
prudently kept behind the fortification
of the casing. As no developments followed this move, I peeped through the door in cautious investigation. The room was quite empty, and I walked in.

The sight that met my eyes was astonishing. Clothes, books, papers, were scattered over the floor and bed
and chairs. The carpet had been partly ripped up, the mattress torn apart, the closet cleared out, and every corner of the room had been ransacked.

It was clear to my eye that this was no ordinary case of robbery. The search, it was evident, was not for money and jewelry alone, and bulkier
property had been despoiled. The men who had torn the place to pieces must,
I surmised, have been after papers of some kind.

I came at once to the conclusion
that I had been favored by a visit from my friends, the enemy. As they had failed to find me in, they had looked for some written memoranda
of the object of their search.

I knew well that they had found nothing among the clothing or papers that Henry had left behind. I had searched through these myself, and the sole document that could bear on the mystery was at that moment fast
in my inside pocket. I was inclined to scout the idea that Henry Wilton had hidden anything under the carpet or in the mattress, or in any secret place.
The threads of the mystery were carried in his head, and the correspondence, if there had been any, was destroyed.

As I was engaged in putting the
room to rights, the door swung back,
and I jumped to my feet to face a
man who stood on the threshold.

"Hello!" he cried. "House-cleaning
again?"

"It was Dicky Nahl, and he paused
with a smile on his face.

cidents of the visit to the Borton
place. "Entirely unpremeditated, I as-
sure you."

"Well, you're making a thorough
job of it," he said with a laugh.

"Fact is," said I ruefully, "I've been
entertaining angels—of the black kind

VOICE OF PEOPLE

MONEY, CHECKS AND THE BANKS.

The Editor of The Sun:

This is a matter, we believe, that the public must need to understand better, and to know more about.

The country has absolutely the same amount of money it always had,
with the addition of over sixty millions of gold which has been imported from Europe since the beginning of the present conditions.

Checks are the most used and the most flexible sort of money at all times. Heretofore, 90 per cent of Paducah's business, and probably the same proportion of the country's in general, has been transacted with checks as the medium of exchange.

When everybody realizes the simplicity of it, all depositors, borrowers, farmers, mechanics, public carriers, and the trades and professions
will finally handle bank cashiers'
checks.

The Paducah banks could cash all checks with cash if that were advisable, but that would simply help the stocking stuffers. Real money must be kept free, or at the back of checks to prevent stringency. There is but a few cents over $31 for each person
in this great, prosperous country of ours. If it were divided up equally,
but, by the system of checks, the money of the country is used over and over again in a day and the actually money need never leave the banks where you and other depositors
put it, so it is your duty as patriotic citizens to put all the money
that you can spare in your bank.

Osteopathy's Recommendations.
More and more each day Osteo-pathy is coming into its own, as its merits become better known, and nowhere is this better evidenced than here in Paducah.

In business you are told that the article that has merit repeats,—that is, is demanded over and over again.
Osteopathy certainly contains this element of success,—it repeats over and over again. The people who have tried it appreciate it and resort to it
when they again need it, and what is as encouraging, have no hesitancy
in recommending it to their friends.

I number among my present and
former patrons some of the best people of Paducah, and can refer you at any time to any of them as to the virtues of my treatment.

If you are suffering of nervousness

Popular Couple.

The wedding of Miss Bonnie Akers and Mr. Wallace Coleman was announced yesterday at St. Francis de Sales church to take place on Wednesday, December 4, at the parsonage.

The Rev. Father Jansen will perform the ceremony. Miss Akers is a popular young woman of the south side. She formerly resided in Livingston county, where she is widely known. Mr. Coleman is one of Paducah's most popular young druggists of the firm of Coleman & Gilbert, Seventeenth and Tennessee streets. They will reside at 1705 Tennessee street.

Handsome Louisville Wedding.

The wedding of Miss Evelyn Long and Mr. Charles Loomis was solemnized yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Robinson, 212 West Broadway. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. T. B. Thomas, of Elizabeth, N. J. The bridesmaids were Misses Edmonia Robinson and Madeline Hermany. Little Miss Marguerite Robinson was the flower girl. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white chiffon embroidered by hand, mounted over liberty silk and trimmed in appliqued tulle. Her tulle veil was held with a coronet of orange blossoms. After the ceremony dinner was served from a set table in the dining-room. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Loomis left for their wedding trip through the south and after a several weeks' tour will return to Louisville, where they will make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Robinson.—Courier-Journal November 15.

The bride is prominently related in Paducah, where she has visited frequently. She is very popular here. Mr. W. E. Cochran, a cousin, attended the wedding.

Since October 1, the new accounts on the books of the Northern Pacific have numbered over 5,000; Philadelphia and Reading over 2,000; Southern Railway over 1,000, and so on.

Alexander Miller, secretary of the Union Pacific, said: "The new accounts are coming at the rate of 200 and 300 a day, and I do not know where it will end."

Eric has had the same experience. On October 1, 1906, the number of stockholders on its books was 6,851. On the same day this year the number had increased to 9,729.

Amalgamated copper, which had one of the biggest slumps during the year, going from 111 1/2 to 45 1/2, has been bought largely on a scale down by the small investor. Since August dividend, over 6,000 new accounts have been opened on its books.

The stock of the American Smelting and Refining company, which has slumped from 155 1/2 to 59 1/2, has been taken up in large amounts by small buyers. Stockholders have increased over twofold and its preferred holders nearly fourfold.

Since October 1 the number of holders of American Sugar have increased between 1,400 and 1,500. The stock fell in the year from 133 1/2 to 100 1/2.

American tobacco, which has gone from 98 1/2 to 63 1/2, has 1,000 more stockholders than it had last year.

Western Union, which has for many years been regarded as one of the best investment securities on the market and is generally held on to very tightly, has shown almost the same increase in the face of a slump in price during the year from $6 to $3. The number of new accounts opened during the quarter previous to October 1 was 934. During October the number of new accounts opened was 407.

Thirty-Nine Tailors to Make a Coat.

Coats used to be made by tailors. A skilled tailor made the entire garment. If that were the method of manufacture today there would be plenty of tailors, apprenticed-trained, to do the work; but the method of manufacture has changed; it no longer takes a tailor to make a coat, and therefore those who are to work in the clothing trades need not serve the old-fashioned tailor's apprenticeship. According to Pope's "The Clothing Industry in New York," there are now thirty-nine different occupations comprised in the manufacture of a coat in a shop where specialization has reached its highest development under the factory system. This means that the skill and labor of the tailor are not merely supplanted somewhat by machinery, but that they are also subdivided into thirty-nine parts.—Ralph Albertson in October Charities and Commons.

Former Paducah Boy to Marry in Mississippi.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Mr. Albert Goldsmith, formerly of Paducah but now of Vicksburg, Miss., to Miss Blanche Baer, of Vicksburg. The date for the wedding has not been set.

Mr. Goldsmith is the youngest son of the late A. Goldsmith, for many years a prominent clothing merchant of Paducah. The family have lived away from here for a number of years. Their home was at Fourth and Jefferson streets. Mr. Goldsmith has a number of relatives here. Mr. Marcus Solomon is a cousin.

Social Tea From 4 to 6 O'clock.

The "Social Tea" to be given on Thursday afternoon at the Woman's club house, under the auspices of the department of philanthropy, will be from 4 to 6 o'clock instead of 3 to 5 as first announced. A free-will offering will be made at the door for the work of the Charity club. An attractive musical program and light refreshments will be features of the "Social Tea" and the public is cordially invited.

Mrs. Turner in Washington.

The Washington letter of the Courier-Journal Sunday, says of Mrs. Oscar Turner, wife of the former congressman from the First district, who has always been identified with Paducah and has many friends here:

"Mrs. Oscar Turner, who expects to spend a part of the winter at the New Willard, will leave soon for Union City, Tenn., to attend the wedding there, on the 24th, of her niece, Miss Mary Gardner, to the governor of the state, Hon. Malcolm R. Patterson. Mrs. Turner is invited to be one of the patronesses at the annual Southern Relief ball, to take place here in January."

Forestry Association to Meet Wednesday.

The newly organized local Forestry association will meet on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Woman's club house for the annual election of officers and adoption of the constitution.

Studio Reception.

Mr. Robert Grover Wilkins' art studio in the Fraternity building was thrown open to the public with a reception on Saturday evening. Many interested in art, among them members of the Woman's club, called. Mr. Wilkins has his studio very artistically and attractively arranged and displayed a number of his own works, notably a copy of Hoffman's Head of Christ painted on glass, and a pen and ink sketch of Lorado Taft, the sculptor, who recently lectured here. Carnations were given as souvenirs to each guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Faust left today for Hartsville, Tenn., where Mrs. Faust goes to visit her parents, and Mr. Faust goes to join a hunting party. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Jeffries.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clifton, of Murray, are visiting Mrs. Rufe Veal. Mr. Michael Griffin, the tobaccoist went to Murray this morning.

Mr. E. C. Copeland went to Murray this morning.

Dr. M. M. Colley went to Murray this morning.

Fireman A. W. Berger, of the Illinois Central, is off duty today on account of an attack of the grip.

Mrs. J. C. Flournoy left this morning for Clarksville, Tenn., to visit Mrs. G. H. Warnock. Later she will go to Nashville to visit Mrs. Frank Watson.

Mr. Saunders Fowler and Mr. H. A. Petter have returned from the Ohio Valley Improvement association convention at Wheeling, W. Va.

Mrs. Maude McLaughlin and daughter, of Cairo, have returned home after a visit to Miss Susie Hubbard, of 415 Norton street.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Walker, of South Third street, are the parents of a baby girl, born last night.

Judge J. C. Dean and Hon. J. C. Speight, of Mayfield, arrived in the city this afternoon to attend federal court.

Hon. Will Linn, formerly of Murray, but now of Chickasha, Oklahoma, is here attending federal court.

Country gent, late of the city, observing countryman raise his hat as he passes, throws him a shilling.

Circus Folk Most Moral. Notwithstanding the absence of the artificial safeguards that a conventional society has ordained, circus performances are, as a class, the most moral folk on the face of the earth. An old circus man expressed the fact in this way: "For 200 years there has not been a domestic scandal nor a divorce among us when both husband and wife were from recognized circus families. In every case where there has been a scandal, either one or the other has been an outsider."—Everybody's.

"The Mercy of Coming Events."

We must all wonder, for a moment now and then, what strange new "brew" is being prepared for us by the busy forces which we name "Circumstances."

In the home life the exit of a servant; in the store, "some thing happens" to our best clerk; in every business venture something "upsets" our favorite plan. If we own property, our best tenant leaves, or our neighbor sells his property at a big profit—while we "hold on" to ours, not willingly.

Emerson expressed it: "Man imprisoned in mortality, lies open to the mercy of coming events."

And the truth has led us to consider ways and means for "taking the sting out of" these coming events—for turning them into endurable burdens. And of these ways and means which we have created, the chiefest is Want Advertising. A wise use of this modern convenience, this instrument of service, Not only makes coming events merciful—it makes us to contemplate them without trepidation.

READY FOR FIELD TRIALS TOMORROW

Ballard County Farmers Contribute 100 Horses.

Sportsmen From All Sections of the Country Gather at La Center for Contests.

IDEAL PLACE FOR THE MEET

Everything is in readiness for the field trials and competitive contests of fine bird dogs to begin at La Center tomorrow and a large number of dogs, their owners and trainers are at La Center waiting for the start.

Secretary Booker, of Louisville, has been at La Center several days getting everything in readiness and securing lodging for those who will attend. Reports from the little town in Ballard are that the farmers are very much interested in the event and those in attendance will be treated to genuine Kentucky hospitality. President M. M. Bardwell, of McHenry, Ky., was in Paducah yesterday en route to the meeting place, and while here expressed himself as being confident that nearly 200 dog owners and their trainers would be present.

Among the notables that arrived on the grounds early are multi-millionaire G. C. Parsons, of the state of Maine, with his $3,500 dog. The animal will be barred from the present contests on account of previous winnings. Mr. T. T. Pierce, of Jellico, Tenn., has the Champion Prince with him, which is also barred. There will be no shooting at all during the event, as the affair is only for the exhibition of dogs. One hundred saddle horses have been furnished by Ballard county farmers for use during the trials.

It is said that quail in large numbers abound in and around La Center and the pretty level country furnishes an ideal place for the trials.

A party of sportsmen from Williamsburg, arrived this morning to take part in the field trials at La Center. They brought a number of fine dogs, some of which will be entered in the contest. Among the party are N. Daniels and E. J. Lyman, prominent business men of Williamsburg.

COMMON SENSE

Leads most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the makers of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrapper and attest its correctness under oath, are daily growing in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to everybody, Dr. Pierce being desirous of having the scientific method of investigation turned fully upon his formula, being confident that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will their great curative merits be recognized. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that his "Golden Medical Discovery," the great blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to even his formula, being yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hang-on-coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated lead up to and finally terminate in consumption.

Take the "Golden Medical Discovery" in time and it is not likely to disappoint you if only you give it a thorough and fair trial. Don't expect miracles. It won't do supernatural things. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use for a reasonable length of time to get its full benefit. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—better than any amount of lay or non-professional testimonials. They are not given away to be experimented with but are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE

FAVORED BY GOVERNOR-ELECT WILLSON IN LETTER.

Replies to Inquiry From Editor of Woman's Page in Lexington Herald—Woman's Clubs Interested.

The Women's clubs will carry the cause of woman's suffrage before the legislature, and the attitude of Governor-elect Willson on the subject is interesting on that account. He was asked to outline his position and this is his reply:

"Kentucky women, may well be satisfied with the position of our future governor toward the issue especially affecting them. Mr. Willson in the letter previously committed himself positively and warmly to the cause of obtaining school suffrage for women. The letter published below is that of a thoughtful, fair-minded man. The most ardent woman suffragist could ask no more than to find the majority of the men of a community in the frame of mind that Mr. Willson is:

Judge Willson's Letter.
Editor Woman's Page of The Lexington Herald, Lexington, Ky.

My Dear Madam:—I received your letter just as I was leaving home on one of my trips, and I gave it to Mrs. Willson with a hurried memorandum which she was unable to read, and therefore made a very informal answer of her own, which, in response to your telegram of last night, she consented to have published, but with very serious misgivings as to whether it would be much credit or benefit to your cause.

I have never considered very seriously any question of danger to me as a candidate in declaring my opinion on the subject of woman suffrage, and as I had for years believed that it was in the highest degree desirable for women to vote on school matters, I promptly wrote you, in answer to your first letter, my views and you have done me the honor to publish them.

Upon the question of women voting in general elections, I have no hesitation on account of candidity in answering, but I have not reached a conclusion that I regard as final.

Theoretically the laws of a people should respond to the needs of all the people governed by the law, and the way in which that is secured is to give everyone affected by the laws a vote—rich and poor, great and small, wise and foolish, strong and weak, white and black—to reach the average sense of all the people whose laws are to be made by themselves. This is the American plan of government and I believe in it religiously. I do not believe that the very wise know all the things that those who are not wise need, as well as the latter themselves, and this theory would clearly entitle women, who are governed by the laws, to have their needs and wishes represented in the laws. I do not care so much about the stock argument of "Taxation Without Representation." I think the people that do not pay any direct taxes at all, but have to obey the laws, should have a voice in their making, and it has seemed to me that the only way to have the general course of the laws respond to the needs and welfare of all the people is for everybody to have a voice in it.

I do not think we are entirely ready for this now, but believe that it must be the subject of thought, discussion and wise consideration for some years, and then shall reach a decision which will be sane and wise. I am sure that no wise objection can be made to women's voting on any ground of any difference in intelligence or fidelity to truth and principles.

There is some argument in the fact that men alone render military service, but as "they also serve who only stand and wait," I am inclined to the belief that indirectly women help and endure even in our wars, and in the growing reign of peace throughout the world that objection becomes less and less important.

The argument that men are the breadwinners and maintain the home and family has a great deal of weight, but has so many and such great exceptions that it is no longer conclusive and indeed in these days of Counts and "no counts" the support is very often the other way.

I am very glad indeed to have had the honor of this correspondence with you, and I hope you will maintain the agitation for your cause with all the earnestness and sincerity which you so richly inherited, and I am sure that every argument and thought which you and your co-laborers may present in this matter will have from me, not only respectful, but interested and earnest consideration. Yours very sincerely,

AUGUSTUS E. WILLSON.

Superintendent Winfrey's Position.

In reply to the letter and telegrams sent to Superintendent Winfrey, candidate for state superintendent on the Democratic ticket, asking his position as to school suffrage for Kentucky women, a reply was received after a week. Mr. Winfrey did not feel ready to express an opinion on the subject for publication until after a further study of the facts. Whatever regret there may be in the minds of women of Democratic affiliations at the defeat of the Democratic ticket they must take some comfort in the fact that the Republican candidate for state superintendent expressed himself publicly, unequivocally and many times before the election in favor of school suffrage for Kentucky women.

Mrs. M. G. Quackenbos, whom Attorney General Bonaparte has made one of his special assistants in the campaign against the trusts, is a New York lawyer. She tells this story of a railroad ham sandwich: "A man paused bitterly in the consumption of a very hard, dry railway ham sandwich and said to the maid behind the counter: 'I don't see no ham in this.' 'You aint come to it yet,' said the maid, with a smile. A minute or two passed. The man's jaws worked gloomily. Then the stopped again and he said: 'I don't see no ham yet, young woman.' 'Oh,' she replied, 'you've gone and bit over it now.'"

The Splendid New Serial Story

Satan Sanderson

Satan Sanderson is the true embodiment of the requisites that make a really great story. It gives the reader a look into a little world of action where all of the emotions that make or mar life—and lives—are set in swift, exciting play—one against the other. Incident follows incident with quick succession, and a vivid panorama of intrigue, mystery, love and strange adventure kindles the interest to the fusing point.

Written in a charming style, brilliant in coloring, picturesque in background, faithful in characterization and intensely dramatic, with stirring climax, Satan Sanderson is by all odds the best story of the year.

MOTHERHOOD

The first requisite of a good mother is good health, and the experience of maternity should not be approached without careful physical preparation, as a woman who is in good physical condition transmits to her children the blessings of a good constitution.

Preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from native roots and herbs, more successfully than by any other medicine because it gives tone and strength to the entire feminine organism, curing displacements, ulceration and inflammation, and the result is less suffering and more children healthy at birth. For more than thirty years has been the standby of American mothers in preparing for childbirth. Not what Mrs. James Chester, of 427 W. 35th St., New York says in this letter:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I wish every expectant mother knew about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A neighbor who had learned of its great value at this trying period of a woman's life urged me to try it and I did so, and I cannot say enough in regard to the good it did me. I recovered quickly and am in the best of health now."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly a successful remedy for the peculiar weaknesses and ailments of women.

It has cured almost every form of Female Complaints, Dragging Sensations, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation, Ulcerations and Organic Diseases of Women and is valuable in preparing for Childbirth and during the Change of Life.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free.

CAR AND WAGON

COLLIDE AT THIRD AND WASHINGTON STREETS SATURDAY.

Occupants of Vehicle Thrown to the Street, But Are Not Seriously Injured.

Car No. 103, in charge of Motor-man Spence, crashed into a team of horses driven by Mr. E. Faith at Third and Washington streets Saturday evening about 6 o'clock and one of the horses was so badly injured that it was shot by a veterinarian. The car was running down towards Broadway, while Mr. Faith was driving out Washington street. Neither he or the motorman saw the other until it was too late. Mr. Faith is a prominent farmer of the Calvert City neighborhood. Mr. E. Faith, Murray Faith, R. L. Jessup and Jesse Baird, who were riding in the wagon, were thrown to the ground, but their injuries amounted to but a few bruises.

GHOSTLY ADVISERS.

Legions of Them Trying Always to Gain President's Ear.

That President Roosevelt has a larger hand of spirits working for or through him than anyone else in the United States, if not in the world, was the declaration made here today by a man who has passed practically all his life in the investigation of spiritualism. The statement was made in absolute good faith.

"I have the very best reason for believing that Theodore Roosevelt lives and moves in the midst of an army of spirits," said this student of spiritualism today. "Is President Roosevelt conscious of it?" he continued. "No, I do not think he is. He would probably laugh at the suggestion, but it is true, nevertheless, and this fact explains many of his acts that the ordinary people cannot understand."

"Our investigation shows that spirits dwell in a sphere not very different from our own and that have pretty much the same feeling about things as they had when on the earth plane. They continue to strive to bring about those things which they failed to accomplish during life. You must understand, too, that battles are fought between spirit friends of good and evil just as they are here. The struggles are titanic in mundane affairs, but they are always looking about for some manner of advancing the causes to which they were attracted, while in the body. Of course they seize upon the most powerful medium for this, and who is as powerful as the president of the United States?"

"But there is not always a man in the white house upon whom they can make a deep impression. From their standpoint it is fortunate that Mr. Roosevelt was chosen president, for there never has been a man in the executive chair whom it is so easy for them to reach, or, more correctly, to get the ear of. Of course, as I have said, the president does not know he is granting them audience, but that does not alter the fact."

"They tug at his elbows and whisper in his ears. The opponents of certain policies, as well as the advocates, endeavor to attract his attention and support, and as the president is very impressionable many of the inconsistencies in his public acts and speeches may be explained by the contrary prompting he receives in this way."—Chicago Daily News.

ENGLISH WORK IN THE SCHOOLS.

No. 5. J. A. Carnegie.

The Study of Words.

One of the aspects of English training in schools, broadly viewed, is to enrich and refine the vocabulary. This may be done by means of the example of the teacher's own English, by intensive study in the reading lessons, by the spelling lessons, and incidentally by means of the other school lessons, as drawing, geography, arithmetic and history. More directly, a child's mastery of words is increased by the use of the dictionary, which should be a part of the regular order of things in grades 5B to 8A inclusive. Through all these means, the school, for the pupil in grades three to eight inclusive, should seek to enlarge his stock of usable words, thus increasing his mastery of English.

Not only should word study include the ordinary uses of words—as pronunciation, spelling and meaning—but it should also include in the grammar grades:

(a) The study of the common prefixes, suffixes and simple derivatives.

(b) The significance of a few common words which have an interesting history.

No excuse need be offered for quoting again from Professor Palmer's "Self Cultivation in English" on this point:

"Our ordinary range is absurdly narrow. It is important, therefore, for anybody who would cultivate himself in English to make strenuous and systematic efforts to enlarge his vocabulary. Our dictionaries contain more than a hundred thousand words. The average speaker employs about three thousand. Is this because ordinary people have only three or four thousands things to say? Not at all. It is simply due to dullness. Listen to the average school boy. He has a dozen or two nouns, half a dozen verbs, three or four adjectives and enough conjunctions and prepositions to stick the conglomerate together. This ordinary speech deserves the description which Hobbes gave to his 'State of Nature,' that it is 'solitary, poor, nasty, brutish and short.' The fact is, we fall into the way of thinking that the wealthy words are for others, and that they do not belong to us. We are like those who have received a vast inheritance, but who persist in the inconveniences of hard beds, scanty food, rude clothing, who never travel, and who limit their purchases to the bare necessities of life. Ask such people why they endure niggardly living while wealth is plenty is lying in the bank, and they can only answer that they have never learned how to spend. But this is wrong learning. We have all the subjects to talk about that these speakers had."

Suggestions for Learning Poems. As a rule, all pupils should learn at least six poems each year, in addition to individual poems learned from time to time.

The beginning of each season is perhaps the best time for learning poems. September, December and March—the months when the mind turns to a new mode of life—are especially good for getting the poetic view of what the future holds in store. It would be economical to have a written or printed copy of a poem ready to hand out to each child in the school the first day of the season. When every child has a poem to learn at the same time, opportunity for pleasant rivalry and community of interest is afforded, which greatly assists in mastering the work. The teacher's copy may then be returned to her and preserved for future use. In grades six, seven and eight, the poems may be assigned by giving the subject of the poem, the author and the book in which it may be found, and the pupil asked to find it himself.

It is generally advisable for the teacher to read to the school, with as good expression as possible, each poem that is to be committed to memory by the pupils. Teachers should also give the child some insight into the imagery and significance of the poem before it is learned, and from time to time as the poem is recited, suggestive questions should be asked which will cause the child to gain some further insight into its meaning.

Pupils should be given some help in the method of memorizing their poems. The painful drudgery of committing to memory word by word, line by line, may be avoided if the teacher will help the child in grasping the principal thoughts in the selection, and mastering these successive thoughts as wholes. The reading period may occasionally be used for the interpretation of these poems, but the memorizing of them should be done in study periods and at home.

Pupils should give much attention to the effective delivery of their poems, in order that the pupils listening may enjoy each poem that is recited. If the proper enthusiasm is aroused, pupils will enter heartily into this work, and it not only will afford excellent training in English, but it will add greatly to the enjoyment and spiritual life of the school. Ethical and patriotic poems, as well as nature poetry, should of course, be learned.

It should be borne in mind that most pupils will retain the poems and psalms learned in the earlier grades, only by having them repeated from time to time in the higher grades. Each child should keep a complete record of the poems and selections which he learns in all grades, in order that teachers in the higher grades may draw upon this material especially for the enrichment of the opening exercises. A child should leave the eighth grade with a large stock of the best poems and a few psalms permanently fixed in memory. (To Be Continued.)

A Hard Debt to Pay.

"I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be paid off," writes G. S. Clark, of Westfield, Iowa, "for my rescue from death, by Dr. King's New Discovery. Both lungs were so seriously affected that death seemed imminent, when I commenced taking New Discovery. The ominous dry, hacking cough quit before the first bottle was used, and two more bottles made a complete cure."

Nothing has ever equalled New Discovery for coughs, colds and all throat and lung complaints. Guaranteed by all druggists. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

LAST OPPORTUNITY.

Seton Thompson Enthusiastic Over That Part of Canada.

New York, Nov. 18.—Ernest Seton Thompson, the author, who has returned to the United States from his exploration trip of seven months through Northwest Canada into the great plains of the Arctic region, is very enthusiastic over that part of Canada below the Arctic zone, calling it the white man's last opportunity. Settlers by the thousands, he said, are pouring into the enormous area of high-agricultural land which has been lying idle for so many years and the rapidly with which it is now being developed is marvelous.

Mr. Thompson covered in this and the Arctic region during the seven months' trip, having one narrow escape from losing not only his diaries and his drawings and maps, but his own life, when his canoe upset in the Athabasca river. He has brought back with him many rare botanical and zoological specimens, with official maps of the country he traversed. He also discovered a number of lakes and rivers in the Arctic region.

Among the animals which he studied especially during his trip, and obtained pictures of, were the barren ground caribou, the lynx, musk ox, wolverine, white wolf, Arctic fox and wild buffalo.

Parcels Post Sure to Come.

If the signs of the times are read correctly congress will have to consider a Federal parcels post before many moons, and the fact that the senator from this state is the head of an express company, that is in duty bound to protest against that kind of a post, will make no material difference. If the scheme were experimental, the delay in its consideration would be understood, but it operates so well abroad that one is almost forced to conclude that it would do as well here.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Gould Tells of Relations of His Wife and Buffalo Bill and Refuses Her Credit

New York, Nov. 18.—Howard Gould sent this advertisement to the newspapers:

"All persons are hereby notified that Mrs. Gould and myself are living separate and apart, that Mrs. Gould is furnished by me with funds sufficient for her necessary and reasonable requirements, and that I will not be responsible for any purchases made or debts contracted by Mrs. Howard Gould, or by any other person acting for her."

Says Mrs. Gould Broke Cody, Denver, Col., Nov. 18.—One of the best posted of the many witnesses who will appear in Howard Gould's divorce suit is the wife of former Chief Justice Beck, of the Colorado supreme court.

Mrs. Beck said this morning: "Katherine Clemmons broke W. F. Cody, and when his money was gone she cast him off like an old shoe. She owes his $200,000 now for the borrowed money which the Goulds will not pay."

"Nate Sansbury and Cody cleaned up $500,000 each on their show during the world's fair in 1893, and Cody spent all of his $500,000 and a good deal more on Miss Clemmons."

Gives Girl's Early History. "She was born in Palo Alto, Cal., of ordinary parentage. Her sister is in the Salvation army. Her real name is Viola Dayman. When she was 16 years old she went to San Francisco as a stenographer in a railway office. She was known there as Mary Andrews."

"She is said to have got in with a fast set which frequented the French restaurants and similar resorts and finally she induced a rich San Francisco man to back her on the stage."

"The opening night the leading man failed to show up and the venture was a failure. She drifted to Boston and lived with the family of a well known preacher. Later she got a position as traveling companion to a wealthy woman and visited Europe, where she met Cody, who was then the lion of the hour in England."

Meets Gould; Hits Cody. "Miss Clemmons met Howard Gould on the boat crossing the Atlantic, and from the first he was desperately infatuated. When she found she could marry Gould she informed Cody that he didn't have money enough and that she was going to quit him."

FEDERAL COURT

The case was continued by the prosecution was to await the investigation being made today by the grand jury, which may result in other indictments being returned.

Grand Jury Reports.

Just before the noon hour the grand jury made its first report, bringing eight indictments, seven of which were for violating the internal revenue laws by selling liquor without a license. Those indicted on this charge were John Bulger and Aaron Tiley, Ed Brown, John Jackson, James Burch, F. R. Ferris and Wm. Murrell. Mack Peepuls was indicted for stealing a package from the United States mails at Fulton. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to one year in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga. Peepuls stole a pair of shoes from a mail bag at the Fulton depot.

Will Murrell pleaded guilty to the indictment against him, charging violation of the revenue law, and was fined $100 and 30 days in jail. The charge against Ed Brown was for selling "Dr. Fizz," a non-intoxicant, at the fair grounds on the 8th of August during the colored celebration. The drink is put up by a local bottling house and Boyd claimed that the beverage is a non-intoxicant.

The court officials here are Judge Walter Evans, Judge George Durrell, district attorney; United States Marshal George W. Long and his stenographer, Miss Hortense Horton; Deputy Marshal Wade Brown, and William Blades and Secret Service Agent S. Donella. Fayette Grief and John Clark, of Paducah, were appointed special bailiffs.

Among the prominent attorneys who are attending the court, are Congressman Ollie James, of Marion; J. H. Coleman, Senator Conn Linn and E. T. Wells, of Murray; J. E. Robbins, of Mayfield; M. H. Fisher and M. T. Shelbourne, of Bardwell. All the attorneys of the local bar were present this morning. No session of the circuit court being held while Judge Cross hurried the business of the police court in order that he and the attorneys might attend.

Wade Brown, deputy United States Marshal, was highly commended by Marshal Long for his work in executing the process of the court. Marshal Brown has made 38 arrests since last court, two of whom have since died, while two were dismissed at the examining trials, the remaining 34 being before the court. Of the 137 subpoenas placed in his hands to serve, all were found and summoned except three.

Queen Coffee Order. A queen document in the form of an edict against the use of coffee has come to light and is published in a German paper. The edict was published by the Bishop of Paderborn on February 23, 1781, and its discovery among a lot of old papers caused the finder to doubt the "goodness" of the olden time. The document gives a long list of the people who may use coffee, provided it has been brought to them from other lands. The burgomasters, owners of large estates, post officers, inkeepers where noble guests are entertained, people who live on their incomes, the rabbi of the Jewish congregation and its presiding officer were on this list. To give coffee to a servant was an offense punishable with a fine of ten reichsthaler. Students, school teachers, workmen and workwomen, surgeons, private soldiers, police officers and a long list of others were warned that a fine of two reichsthaler would be imposed if they did not abstain from the use of coffee. When the privileged persons failed to live up to the law the fines were doubled with each offense, and at the third time their coffee privilege was revoked. For those whose rank or station made them ineligible to the privilege of drinking coffee three violations of the edict meant a term in prison.—New York Tribune.

Shirt Cuff News. Henry White, our secretary of embassy at Paris, tells of a brilliant reporter on a French journal who holds a strong objection to the notebook dear to most of his associates. The Parisian newspaper man wears large white cuffs, and on these he is said to jot down such events as appeal to him, with suggestions for his subsequent articles. At first, the story runs, his lauders was much puzzled by the hieroglyphics, but as time went on she became able to read them, and apparently derived much benefit and pleasure therefrom.

One day the journalist received with his laundered garments a slip of paper on which was written: "Your last washing was very interesting, but we should be glad to have you give us more political news."

The rainfall in Paducah and vicinity was light, being 1.20, while at Johnsonville a heavy rain fell yesterday that means a rise in the Tennessee river. The river at Paducah rose two feet in the last twenty-four hours. A sudden rise in the Tennessee will cause inconvenience at the ways. There is so much work on hand that boats are lined on the ways to the edge of the water and a rise would cause a delay in repairs.

A MAN IN MINNESOTA REPLIES TO A SUN WANT AD

One in Marion, Ky., Replies to the Same One.

FOR RENT—Fine farm about 3 miles from city. Good house and out buildings. Apply to 309 Broadway. T. E. Lydon.

A gentleman in Frontenac, Minn., replied to the ad. above, which is quite out of the ordinary. Mr. Lydon received a letter from him this week making inquiries about the farm, and he also had one reply, out of a great number of others, from a man in Marion, Ky.

The moral to this is: The Sun's want ads are effective—they certainly are wide reaching.
